Welcome to

Cotswold House Hotel & Spa

Please relax, unwind and enjoy your surroundings, be it in our gardens or in one of our fine dining areas and indulge in the grand British tradition of afternoon tea.

This delightful teatime extravagance has been enjoyed for centuries by dignified society and has become a fashionable treat that everyone can enjoy. It was originally designed to quell that 'sinking feeling' that noble ladies experienced between breakfast and supper when it was customary to only take two meals a day. The solution was some light snacks and a pot of tea - once a luxury, now an integral part of British culture.

Please peruse our list of loose leaf teas which you can also touch, smell and taste before making your choice and complimenting it with our cakes and sandwiches, created to delight your taste buds.

Our team are on hand to help and advise.
